MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

The Constitution of India is the result of the hard work, dedication and vision of our freedom fighters and leaders. It was not made in a day. It was a long and careful process.

Constituent Assembly in session

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

Idea of a Constituent Assembly was first proposed by M. N. Roy in 1934.

The British Cabinet Mission Plan, 1946, recommended a Constituent Assembly.

Constituent Assembly was formed in December 1946.

It took 2 years, 11 months and 18 days to complete the Constitution.

The Constitution came into effect on 26 January 1950.

THE JOURNEY IN CHRONOLOGICAL ORDER

1. EARLY IDEAS

In 1934, M. N. Roy first raised the idea of a Constituent Assembly to frame a Constitution for India.

2. CABINET MISSION PLAN

In 1946, the British Cabinet Mission proposed a plan for setting up a Constituent Assembly.

3. FORMATION OF ASSEMBLY

The Constituent Assembly was formed in December 1946. It had 389 members.

4. FIRST MEETING

The first meeting was held on 9 December 1946 (Dr. Sachchidanand Sinha was the temporary Chairman).

5. OBJECTIVES RESOLUTION

On 22 January 1947, Jawaharlal Nehru moved the Objectives Resolution, which laid down the guiding principles.

6. ADOPTION OF CONSTITUTION

The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into effect on 26 January 1950.

SOURCES OF THE INDIAN CONSTITUTION

The makers of the Indian Constitution carefully studied the Constitutions of many countries and borrowed the best features suited to India's needs.

COUNTRY	BORROWED FEATURES
 UNITED KINGDOM	• Parliamentary System • Rule of Law • Cabinet Government • Single Citizenship
 UNITED STATES	• Fundamental Rights • Judicial Review • Independence of Judiciary • Impeachment of President
 IRELAND	• Directive Principles of State Policy • Election of President
 CANADA	• Federal System with Strong Centre • Residuary Powers
 AUSTRALIA	• Concurrent List • Freedom of Trade and Commerce • Joint Sitting of the Two Houses of Parliament
 GERMANY (WEIMAR)	• Emergency Provisions
 SOVIET UNION (USSR)	• Fundamental Duties • Planning ideals
 FRANCE	• Liberty, Equality, Fraternity
 SOUTH AFRICA	• Amendment Procedure • Election to Rajya Sabha
 JAPAN	• Procedure established by law

DID YOU KNOW?

The Indian Constitution is not copied from any single country. It is a unique blend of ideas adapted to suit India's history, culture, diversity and aspirations.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

- ★ The Indian Constitution is the longest written Constitution in the world.
- ★ It draws upon the best constitutional practices from around the world and combines them to create a document that reflects India's ideals of justice, liberty, equality, fraternity and unity.

“ We have borrowed from different countries, but our Constitution is wholly and uniquely our own. ”

UNION AND ITS TERRITORY

(ARTICLES 1-4)

Articles 1 to 4 of the Constitution deal with the name of the country and the extent and formation of the territory of the Union of India.

ARTICLE 1 – NAME AND TERRITORY OF THE UNION

- India, that is Bharat, shall be a Union of States.
- “India”, that is “Bharat”, shall be the name of the Union.

ARTICLE 2 – ADMISSION OR ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW STATES

- Parliament may, by law, admit into the Union, or establish, new States on such terms and conditions as it thinks fit.
- It can increase the area of any State.

ARTICLE 3 – FORMATION OF NEW STATES AND ALTERATION OF AREAS, BOUNDARIES OR NAMES OF EXISTING STATES

- Parliament may, by law, form a new State by separation of territory from any State or by uniting two or more States or parts of States.
- It may also alter the area, boundaries or name of any existing State.
- The President shall refer the Bill to the concerned State Legislature for its views, but Parliament is not bound by those views.

ARTICLE 4 – LAWS MADE UNDER ARTICLES 2 AND 3 NOT TO BE QUESTIONED

- No law made under Articles 2 and 3 shall be questioned in any court on any ground.
- This ensures that the reorganisation of States is a matter for Parliament alone.

TERRITORY OF THE UNION OF INDIA

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

India is a Union of States, not a Federation.

Parliament has the power to create new States, change areas, boundaries or names of existing States.

The President's recommendation is required for such Bills.

Courts cannot question laws made under Articles 2 and 3.

DID YOU KNOW?

Power of Parliament to reorganise States has been used several times, the latest being the formation of new States like Telangana (2014) and Jammu & Kashmir (2019 – UTs).

“The unity of India is strengthened not by uniformity, but by the wise accommodation of its diversity.”

– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

WHY THESE ARTICLES ARE IMPORTANT

Define the geographical identity of India.

Give Parliament the flexibility to meet political and social needs.

Ensure unity and integrity of the country.

Maintain balance between States and the Union.

Strengthen national unity with respect for diversity.

CITIZENSHIP
(ARTICLES 5-11)

Articles 5 to 11 of the Constitution deal with the provisions regarding citizenship at the commencement of the Constitution.

5 ARTICLE 5 – CITIZENSHIP AT THE COMMENCEMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION

- At the commencement of the Constitution, a person who was domiciled in India and:
 - born in India; or
 - either of whose parents was born in India; or
 - who had ordinarily resided in India for not less than 5 years immediately preceding such commencement, shall be a citizen of India.

6 ARTICLE 6 – RIGHTS OF CITIZENS OF CERTAIN AREAS TO BECOME CITIZENS

- A person who, or either of whose parents or any of whose grandparents, was born in India and who is ordinarily resident in any of the areas that became part of India after 15th August, 1947 shall be a citizen of India.
- Parliament may make any law regarding such citizenship.

7 ARTICLE 7 – MIGRATION TO PAKISTAN

- A person who migrated to Pakistan after 1st March, 1947, shall not be a citizen of India.
- But a person who migrated to Pakistan but returned to India for permanent settlement, shall be a citizen of India, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.

8 ARTICLE 8 – PERSONS OF INDIAN ORIGIN RESIDING OUTSIDE INDIA

- A person who, or either of whose parents or any of whose grandparents, was born in India and who is ordinarily resident outside India, shall be a citizen of India.
- Such person shall have the rights and be subject to the provisions of the Constitution in the same manner as if he were a citizen of India.

9 ARTICLE 9 – PERSONS VOLUNTARILY ACQUIRING CITIZENSHIP OF A FOREIGN STATE

- A person who has voluntarily acquired the citizenship of any foreign State shall not be a citizen of India.

10 ARTICLE 10 – CONTINUANCE OF CITIZENSHIP

- The rights of citizenship of any person who is a citizen of India at the commencement of the Constitution shall continue.
- Parliament may make any law regulating the rights of citizenship of such person or any class of such persons.

11 ARTICLE 11 – PARLIAMENT TO REGULATE CITIZENSHIP BY LAW

- Parliament shall have the power to make any law determining who are, or shall be, citizens of India and the rights of citizenship.

KEY POINTS TO REMEMBER

- ★ At the commencement, citizenship was not based on religion but on birth, descent and residence.
- ★ These Articles provided temporary and transitional arrangements.
- ★ Later, the Citizenship Act, 1955 was enacted by Parliament to regulate citizenship in detail.

MODES OF ACQUIRING INDIAN CITIZENSHIP (UNDER CITIZENSHIP ACT, 1955)

BY BIRTH

A person born in India on or after 26th January, 1950 is a citizen of India.

BY DESCENT

A person born outside India to an Indian parent is a citizen of India.

BY REGISTRATION

A person of Indian origin can register as a citizen of India subject to conditions.

BY NATURALISATION

A foreigner can become a citizen after residing in India for a specified period.

BY INCORPORATION OF TERRITORY

Persons residing in a territory incorporated into India become citizens.

DID YOU KNOW?

Citizenship is the legal bond between an individual and the State, giving the individual rights and imposing duties towards the country.

“Citizenship is not just about rights, it is also about responsibilities towards the nation.”

RIGHT AGAINST EXPLOITATION

(ARTICLES 23-24)

The Right against Exploitation ensures that no person is subjected to any form of exploitation and that human dignity is protected. It aims to secure fair and just conditions of work.

ARTICLE 23 – PROHIBITION OF TRAFFICKING AND FORCED LABOUR

- 1 Traffic in human beings and begar (forced labour) and other similar forms of forced labour are prohibited and any contravention of this provision shall be an offence punishable in accordance with law.
- 2 The State shall not force any person to render any begar (forced labour) or other similar service.
- 3 Nothing in this article shall prevent the State from imposing compulsory service for public purpose, and in case of any religious or racial emergency.

KEY POINTS

- ★ Traffic in human beings includes buying, selling, transporting, harbouring or recruiting a person.
- ★ Begar means any work or service extracted from any person under threat of any penalty and for which the person has not offered himself voluntarily.
- ★ This article protects the dignity, liberty and freedom of individuals.

SAY NO TO EXPLOITATION

Every human being deserves respect, dignity and freedom.

ARTICLE 24 – PROHIBITION OF EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN IN FACTORIES, MINES AND HAZARDOUS EMPLOYMENTS

No child below the age of 14 years shall be employed to work in any factory or mine or engaged in any other hazardous employment.

KEY POINTS

- ★ The purpose is to protect children from economic exploitation and safeguard their health and development.
- ★ The State is responsible for providing opportunities for education and ensuring a safe childhood.

CHILDHOOD IS FOR EDUCATION NOT FOR EXPLOITATION

OBJECTIVE

These provisions ensure that no individual is treated as a means for the benefit of others and that the dignity of labour and the rights of the vulnerable are protected.

IMPORTANT CASE LAWS

- People's Union for Democratic Rights v. Union of India (1982)

The Supreme Court held that paying less than the minimum wage amounts to forced labour under Article 23.

- Bandhua Mukti Morcha v. Union of India (1984)

The Court recognized bonded labour as a violation of Article 23 and directed the State to take steps for its eradication.

- M. C. Mehta v. State of Tamil Nadu (1996)

The Supreme Court laid down guidelines to protect children from hazardous employment and ensure their education.

DID YOU KNOW?

India has laws like the Bonded Labour System (Abolition) Act, 1976 and the Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986 to give effect to Articles 23-24.

“Exploitation of man by man is the greatest curse of our society. The Constitution abolishes it.”

FREEDOM OF RELIGION

(ARTICLES 25-28)

The Freedom of Religion guarantees to all individuals the right to freely profess, practise and propagate religion and to manage religious affairs. It promotes secularism and respects the diversity of faiths in India.

ARTICLE 25 – FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE AND FREE PROFESSION, PRACTICE AND PROPAGATION OF RELIGION

Subject to public order, morality, health and other provisions of this Part, all persons are equally entitled to freedom of conscience and the right freely to profess, practise and propagate religion.

This includes the right:

- To profess any religion or to not profess any religion.
- To practise religion in any form.
- To propagate religion.
- To subject to reasonable restrictions in the interest of public order, morality, health and other provisions.

ARTICLE 27 – FREEDOM AS TO PAYMENT OF TAXES FOR PROMOTION OF RELIGION

No person shall be compelled to pay any taxes the proceeds of which are specifically appropriated in payment of the expenses for the promotion or maintenance of any particular religion or religious denomination.

KEY FEATURES

- ★ Ensures religious freedom to all individuals.
- ★ Promotes secularism – the State has no official religion.
- ★ Protects the rights of religious denominations to manage their own affairs.
- ★ Prevents the use of State funds for the promotion of any particular religion.
- ★ Ensures that no one is forced to participate in religious instruction or worship.

IMPORTANT CASE LAWS

- Commissioner, Hindu Religious Endowments, Madras v. Sri Lakshmindra Thirtha Swamiar of Shirur Mutt (1954): The Supreme Court held that 'religion' includes all essential practices and that the State can regulate secular activities associated with religion.
- Bijoe Emmanuel v. State of Kerala (1986): The Court held that the right to freedom of religion includes the right not to be compelled to participate in any religious practice.
- Ismail Faruqui v. Union of India (1994): The Court held that the mosque is not an essential part of Islam and acquisition of mosque property by the State does not violate Articles 25 and 26.

DID YOU KNOW?

India is home to people of many religions living together peacefully. Our Constitution protects this beautiful diversity.

“Secularism is not the same as irreligion; secularism is a way of ensuring that all religions are treated equally.”

– Justice J. S. Verma

ARTICLE 26 – FREEDOM TO MANAGE RELIGIOUS AFFAIRS

Every religious denomination or any section thereof shall have the right:

- 1 to establish and maintain institutions for religious and charitable purposes;
- 2 to manage its own affairs in matters of religion;
- 3 to own and acquire movable and immovable property;
- 4 to administer such property in accordance with law.

ARTICLE 28 – FREEDOM AS TO ATTENDANCE AT RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION OR WORSHIP IN CERTAIN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

No religious instruction shall be provided in any educational institution wholly maintained out of State funds.

- 1 Nothing in this clause shall apply to an educational institution which is wholly maintained out of State funds but administered under a trust or endowment requiring that religious instruction shall be given in such institution.
- 2 No person attending any educational institution maintained by the State shall be required to take part in any religious instruction or worship without his consent, or that of his guardian, if he is a minor.
- 3 Nothing in this clause shall apply to an educational institution recognized by the State or receiving aid out of State funds.

REASONABLE RESTRICTIONS (ARTICLE 25)

The freedom under Article 25 is subject to reasonable restrictions in the interests of:

- ✓ Public order
- ✓ Morality
- ✓ Health
- ✓ Other provisions of Part III (Fundamental Rights)

IN SIMPLE WORDS

You can follow any religion, change your religion or not follow any religion. You can practise and spread your religion peacefully. The State will not force you to pay for any religion or to take part in religious activities.

CULTURAL & EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS

(ARTICLES 29-30)

Cultural and Educational Rights protect the interests of minorities, ensure the preservation of their language, script and culture and provide them the right to establish and administer educational institutions of their choice.

ARTICLE 29 – PROTECTION OF INTERESTS OF MINORITIES

- 1 Any section of the citizens residing in the territory of India or any part thereof having a distinct language, script or culture of its own shall have the right to conserve the same.
- 2 No citizen shall be denied admission into any educational institution maintained by the State or receiving aid out of State funds on grounds only of religion, race, caste, language or any of them.

ARTICLE 30 – RIGHT OF MINORITIES TO ESTABLISH AND ADMINISTER EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

All minorities, whether based on religion or language, shall have the right:

- 1 to establish and administer educational institutions of their choice;
- 2 not to be discriminated against by the State in grant of aid to educational institutions;
- 3 to administer such institutions in accordance with law, subject to academic standards.

KEY FEATURES

- ✓ These rights are available to minorities, not individual citizens.
- ✓ Minorities can be based on religion or language.
- ✓ The rights help in preserving India's rich cultural and linguistic diversity.
- ✓ The State can regulate administration to maintain academic standards, but cannot take away the right itself.

EXAMPLES OF MINORITY INSTITUTIONS IN INDIA

- St. Stephen's College, Delhi (Christian minority institution)
- Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh (Muslim minority institution)
- Loyola College, Chennai (Christian minority institution)
- Many schools and colleges run by linguistic minority communities.

IMPORTANT CASE LAWS

- St. Xavier's College v. State of Gujarat (1974): The Supreme Court held that minorities have the right to administer their educational institutions, though the State can impose reasonable regulations.
- T. M. A. Pai Foundation v. State of Karnataka (2002): The Court reaffirmed the rights of minorities to establish and administer educational institutions and laid down guidelines to balance the autonomy of institutions with regulatory measures.

WHY ARE THESE RIGHTS IMPORTANT?

- ✓ They protect the identity, language, script and culture of minorities.
- ✓ They promote equality, diversity and inclusion in education.
- ✓ They ensure that minorities can run institutions to preserve their values and provide education to future generations.

DID YOU KNOW?

India is home to 22 recognized languages in the Constitution. The Cultural & Educational Rights help in preserving this incredible diversity.

“The strength of India lies in its diversity. These rights ensure that every community can preserve its culture and educate its children with pride.”

RIGHT TO CONSTITUTIONAL REMEDIES

(ARTICLE 32)

The Right to Constitutional Remedies empowers individuals to move the Supreme Court for the enforcement of their Fundamental Rights. It is the heart and soul of the Constitution.

“If any Fundamental Right is violated, the Supreme Court has the power to issue appropriate writs or orders for its enforcement.”

ARTICLE 32 – RIGHT TO MOVE SUPREME COURT

- 1 The right to move the Supreme Court by appropriate proceedings for the enforcement of Fundamental Rights is guaranteed.
- 2 The Supreme Court has the power to issue writs, orders or directions for this purpose.
- 3 The right guaranteed by this Article is itself a Fundamental Right.
- 4 Parliament may by law empower any other court to exercise the powers conferred on the Supreme Court by this Article.

WRITS THAT CAN BE ISSUED BY THE SUPREME COURT (UNDER ARTICLE 32)

	HABEAS CORPUS	Issued to secure the release of a person who is unlawfully detained.
	MANDAMUS	Issued to direct a public authority or government official to perform their legal duty.
	PROHIBITION	Issued to prevent a lower court from exceeding its jurisdiction.
	QUO WARRANTO	Issued to question the legality of a person's holding of a public office.
	CERTIORARI	Issued to quash the order of a lower court or tribunal for errors of law or jurisdiction.

KEY FEATURES

- ✓ It provides a speedy and effective remedy for the violation of Fundamental Rights.
- ✓ It can be directly invoked by any person whose Fundamental Rights are violated.
- ✓ The Supreme Court can issue appropriate writs to the concerned authority.
- ✓ Dr. B. R. Ambedkar called Article 32 the “safety-valve of the Constitution”.

WHY IS THIS RIGHT IMPORTANT?

- It ensures that Fundamental Rights are not just theoretical but can be enforced in real life.
- It acts as a check on the arbitrary actions of the State and its authorities.
- It strengthens the rule of law and protects individual liberty.
- It reflects the Constitution's commitment to justice, freedom and equality.

IMPORTANT CASE LAWS

- ★ Keshavananda Bharati v. State of Kerala (1973): The Supreme Court held that Article 32 is part of the basic structure of the Constitution.
- ★ Maneka Gandhi v. Union of India (1978): The Court expanded the scope of Article 21 and recognized that rights must be fair, just and reasonable.
- ★ Rudul Sah v. State of Bihar (1983): The Court held that even in cases involving foreign nationals, Article 32 can be invoked if Fundamental Rights are violated.
- ★ L. Chandra Kumar v. Union of India (1997): The Court held that the power of judicial review under Article 32 is part of the basic structure.

DID YOU KNOW?

Dr. B. R. Ambedkar described Article 32 as the “very soul of the Constitution” because it provides effective protection of Fundamental Rights.

“The Constitution is not a mere lawyer's document; it is a vehicle of Life, and its spirit is always the spirit of Age.”

FUNDAMENTAL DUTIES

(ARTICLE 51A)

The Fundamental Duties were added to the Constitution by the 42nd Constitutional Amendment Act, 1976. They are a reminder to every citizen of India to contribute towards the nation and uphold the ideals of our Constitution.

FUNDAMENTAL DUTIES OF CITIZENS (ARTICLE 51A)

It shall be the duty of every citizen of India:

- 1  to abide by the Constitution and respect its ideals and institutions, the National Flag and the National Anthem;
- 2  to cherish and follow the noble ideals which inspired our national struggle for freedom;
- 3  to uphold and protect the sovereignty, unity and integrity of India;
- 4  to defend the country and render national service when called upon to do so;
- 5  to promote harmony and the spirit of common brotherhood amongst all the people of India transcending religious, linguistic and regional or sectional diversities; to renounce practices derogatory to the dignity of women;
- 6  to value and preserve the rich heritage of our composite culture;
- 7  to protect and improve the natural environment including forests, lakes, rivers and wildlife, and to have compassion for living creatures;
- 8  to develop the scientific temper, humanism and the spirit of inquiry and reform;
- 9  to safeguard public property and to abjure violence;
- 10  to strive towards excellence in all spheres of individual and collective activity so that the nation constantly rises to higher levels of endeavour and achievement;
- 11  who is a parent or guardian, to provide opportunities for education to his child or, as the case may be, ward between the age of six and fourteen years.

KEY FEATURES

- ✓ These duties are moral duties, not legal obligations.
- ✓ They are a reminder of the responsibilities every citizen owes to the nation and fellow citizens.
- ✓ They complement the Fundamental Rights and help build a strong and united India.
- ✓ Added to the Constitution by the 42nd Amendment Act, 1976.

IMPORTANCE OF FUNDAMENTAL DUTIES

- ★ They promote nationalism and patriotism.
- ★ Help in maintaining unity and integrity of the nation.
- ★ Encourage respect for culture, environment and public property.
- ★ Help in creating responsible and disciplined citizens.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Fundamental Duties were inspired by the Soviet Constitution (1977) and the recommendations of the Swaran Singh Committee.

IMPORTANT CASE LAWS

- S. R. Bommai v. Union of India (1994): The Supreme Court held that Fundamental Duties are important and must be observed by every citizen.
- A. I. I. M. S. Students' Union v. AIIMS (2001): The Court observed that Fundamental Duties have a fundamental place in the governance of the country.
- M. C. Mehta v. Union of India (Various Cases): The Court used Fundamental Duties (especially Article 51A(g)) to emphasize the duty of citizens to protect the environment.

"Rights without duties lead to chaos; duties without rights lead to slavery."

DIRECTIVE PRINCIPLES OF STATE POLICY

(PART IV: ARTICLES 36–51)

सत्यमेव जयते

The Directive Principles of State Policy (DPSPs) are enshrined in Part IV of the Constitution (Articles 36–51). They are fundamental for the governance of the country and it shall be the duty of the State to apply these principles in making laws.

IMPORTANT DIRECTIVE PRINCIPLES

- To secure a social order for the promotion of welfare of the people (Article 38).
- To minimize inequalities in income, status, facilities and opportunities (Article 39).
- To ensure adequate means of livelihood for all (Article 39).
- To secure equal pay for equal work for both men and women (Article 39).
- To protect children from abuse and to provide opportunities for healthy development (Article 39).
- To distribute material resources of the community for the common good (Article 39).
- To organize village panchayats and endow them with necessary powers and authority (Article 40).
- To provide free and compulsory education for children up to the age of 14 years (Article 45).
- To improve public health and raise the standard of living (Article 47).
- To protect and improve the environment and safeguard forests and wildlife (Article 48A).
- To prohibit the slaughter of cows, calves and other milch and draught cattle (Article 48).
- To protect monuments and places and objects of national importance (Article 49).
- To promote international peace and security and respect for international law (Article 51).

IMPORTANT CASE LAWS

- Champakam Dorairajan v. State of Madras (1951): The Supreme Court observed that DPSPs are fundamental in the governance of the country.
- Kesavananda Bharati v. State of Kerala (1973): The Court held that Fundamental Rights and DPSPs are complementary and both are important.
- Minerva Mills v. Union of India (1980): The Court held that harmony between Fundamental Rights and DPSPs is a basic feature of the Constitution.

NATURE OF DPSPs

- ★ These principles are not justiciable in any court (Article 37).
- ★ They are non-enforceable by courts but are fundamental in the governance of the country.
- ★ They are complementary to Fundamental Rights.
- ★ They aim at achieving social and economic democracy.

GOALS OF DPSPs

- Establish a welfare state.
- Ensure social and economic justice.
- Promote equality in status, facilities and opportunities.
- Secure a decent standard of living for all citizens.
- Reduce economic disparities and prevent concentration of wealth.
- Protect the environment and cultural heritage.
- Promote world peace and international harmony.

SIGNIFICANCE OF DPSPs

- ✓ They are the soul of the Constitution and the foundation of social and economic democracy.
- ✓ They guide the State in framing laws and policies for the welfare of the people.
- ✓ They help in transforming the ideals of justice – social, economic and political – into reality.
- ✓ They inspire the government to work for the progress and prosperity of the nation.

DID YOU KNOW?

The phrase "Socialist" in the Preamble and the vision of a welfare state are closely linked with the Directive Principles of State Policy.

“The Directive Principles are the guiding principles for the State to build an order in which justice—social, economic and political shall inform all institutions.”

– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS & DPSPs

"The Fundamental Rights are the rights of the individual whereas the DPSPs are the rights of the community."

– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

सत्यमेव जयते

FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS (Part III)

- ✓ Guaranteed rights to individuals.
- ✓ Justiciable in nature (enforceable in courts).
- ✓ Aimed at protecting individual liberty and dignity.
- ✓ Negative in character – the State is restricted from interfering.
- ✓ Available to citizens (and in some cases to non-citizens also).
- ✓ Found in Articles 12–35.

DIRECTIVE PRINCIPLES OF STATE POLICY (Part IV)

- ✓ Guiding principles for the State.
- ✓ Non-justiciable in nature (not enforceable in courts).
- ✓ Aimed at promoting social and economic democracy and welfare of the people.
- ✓ Positive in character – the State is directed to take steps for their implementation.
- ✓ Available to all persons (not just citizens).
- ✓ Found in Articles 36–51.

HARMONY AND BALANCE – THE BASIC IDEA

- Fundamental Rights and DPSPs are like the two wheels of a chariot. Both are essential for the progress of the country.
- Fundamental Rights ensure freedom and dignity of individuals.
- DPSPs aim at social and economic justice and welfare of the people.
- Dr. B. R. Ambedkar described Fundamental Rights as the "Magna Carta of the people" and DPSPs as the "Directions to the State".

HOW FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND DPSPs RELATE TO EACH OTHER

- 1 DPSPs help in the realisation of Fundamental Rights.
- 2 Many DPSPs are the extension of Fundamental Rights.
- 3 A harmonious interpretation of both ensures a welfare state.
- 4 When both conflict, courts try to give importance to both.
- 5 Together, they establish a balance between individual freedom and social welfare.

- 1 Fundamental Rights provide the means; DPSPs provide the goals.
- 2 Rights without social and economic justice are meaningless.
- 3 DPSPs guide the State in making policies for the benefit of all.
- 4 Progressive realisation of DPSPs strengthens Fundamental Rights.
- 5 Both are complementary and reinforce each other.

JUDICIAL APPROACH

- In the early years, courts gave more importance to Fundamental Rights.
- In later years, courts adopted a balanced approach.
- The concept of "Harmonious Construction" is followed – both should be read together.
- Article 37: DPSPs are not enforceable by any court, but it does not mean they are not important.

EXAMPLES OF RELATIONSHIP

- Right to Education (Article 21A) is now a Fundamental Right, but earlier it was a DPSP (Article 45).
- Right to Work: DPSP (Article 41) supports the Right to Life with dignity (Article 21).
- Right to Health: DPSP (Article 47) supports Fundamental Right to Life.
- Right to Equality (Article 14–18) is strengthened by DPSPs aiming to reduce inequalities.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

Fundamental Rights protect individuals from State; DPSPs direct the State to work for the welfare of all. The one ensures freedom, the other ensures justice and equality. Both together build a just, fair and welfare society.

“Political democracy cannot last unless there lies at the base of it social democracy. Social democracy means a way of life which recognizes liberty, equality and fraternity as the principles of life.”

– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar **”

FEDERAL SYSTEM

UNITY IN DIVERSITY

India has a Federal System with a strong Centre.
The Constitution establishes a Union of States in which powers are divided between the Union and the States.

“ India is not a mere aggregation of States. It is a Union of States.
– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar **”

1. MEANING

A Federal System is a system of government in which power is divided between a central authority and constituent units (States) in such a way that the jurisdiction of each is limited in its own sphere and both derive their powers from the Constitution and not from each other.

Federalism combines unity and diversity – a single nation with multiple units.

2. SALIENT FEATURES OF INDIAN FEDERALISM

- Division of powers between Union and States through the Seventh Schedule.
- Written Constitution – supreme and rigid.
- Supremacy of the Constitution.
- Independent judiciary.
- Dual polity – both Union and States have their own executive, legislature and judiciary.
- Bicameralism at the Union level.
- Single citizenship for the whole country.
- Emergency provisions – stronger Centre in times of crisis.

3. DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS (SEVENTH SCHEDULE)

UNION LIST

97 subjects
e.g., Defence, Foreign Affairs, Banking, Railways, Atomic Energy

STATE LIST

66 subjects
e.g., Police, Public Health, Agriculture, Local Government

CONCURRENT LIST

47 subjects
e.g., Education, Forests, Trade Unions, Marriage, Criminal Law

In case of conflict between Union and State laws on Concurrent List, Union law prevails. (Article 254)

Residual powers (subjects not mentioned in any list) vest in the Union. (Article 248)

4. UNION OF STATES (ARTICLE 1)

India, that is Bharat, shall be a Union of States.
The States are not sovereign but are autonomous units.

New States can be formed. (Article 2, 3)

Boundaries of States can be changed. (Article 3)

States can be merged or dissolved. (Article 3)

5. STRONG CENTRE – WHY?

Protection of national unity and integrity

To deal with internal and external threats

To ensure economic planning and development

To maintain law and order in the country

To promote social justice and equality

To meet emergencies effectively

6. COOPERATIVE FEDERALISM

Both Union and States should work together in a spirit of mutual trust and cooperation.

- Inter-State Council (Article 263)
- NITI Aayog – promotes cooperative and competitive federalism
- Zonal Councils
- Finance Commission
- GST Council

7. FINANCIAL RELATIONS

- Taxes are divided between Union and States.
- Union taxes: Income Tax, Customs Duty, etc.
- State taxes: Land Revenue, Stamp Duty, etc.
- Finance Commission recommends distribution of resources. (Article 280)
- Grants-in-aid to States from Consolidated Fund of India.

8. EMERGENCY PROVISIONS – STRONG CENTRE

- National Emergency (Article 352)
- President's Rule in States (Article 356)
- Financial Emergency (Article 360)

During emergencies, the Centre can assume more powers to protect the nation and its unity.

9. CENTRE-STATE RELATIONS: ROLE OF THE JUDICIARY

The Supreme Court acts as the guardian of the Constitution and ensures that both Union and States act within their constitutional limits.

JUDICIAL REVIEW

Courts can strike down any law made by Union or State if it violates the Constitution.

KEY FACTS

- India adopted federal system from USA, unitary features from UK.
- The Constitution makers chose a strong Centre to keep India united.
- Federalism in India is aimed at national unity with local autonomy.

DID YOU KNOW?

- The word 'federal' is not used in the Constitution. But the structure and functioning of India is federal in nature.

10. AMALGAM OF FEDERAL AND UNITARY FEATURES

FEDERAL FEATURES

- ✓ Division of powers
- ✓ Written Constitution
- ✓ Independent judiciary
- ✓ Dual polity
- ✓ Rigid Constitution

UNITARY FEATURES

- ✓ Strong Centre
- ✓ Single citizenship
- ✓ Emergency provisions
- ✓ Residual powers with Centre
- ✓ Parliament can change State boundaries

Indian Federalism is thus 'Quasi-Federal' – federal in normal times, unitary in emergencies.

“ The federal structure of India is not a result of a compact between the States and the Centre. It is the result of a historic decision.
– S. R. Bommai (Supreme Court Judgment) **”

CENTRAL-STATE RELATIONS

BALANCING UNITY AND AUTONOMY

The Constitution of India establishes a Federal System with a strong Centre. It seeks to promote unity and integrity of the nation while preserving the autonomy and identity of the States.

India is a Union of States.
It is not a mere association of States
but a Union
with a strong Centre.
– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

1. DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS

The Constitution distributes legislative powers between the Centre and the States through the Seventh Schedule.

UNION LIST
(List I)

In case of a conflict, the law made by Parliament prevails over the law made by State Legislature. (Article 254)

2. ADMINISTRATIVE RELATIONS

All India Services (Article 312)
IAS, IPS, IFoS – shared by Centre and States to maintain administrative unity and standards.

Central Agencies in States
Some Union laws are implemented by State administration. Centre can also direct States in matters of national importance.

Delegation of Functions
States may entrust functions to local bodies; Centre may seek information from States.

Information Flow
Inter-governmental communication and consultation ensure coordination between Centre and States.

3. FINANCIAL RELATIONS

- Taxes are divided between Centre and States (Seventh Schedule, List I & II).
- States get a share in Union Taxes (Article 270).
- Grants-in-aid to States from Consolidated Fund of India (Articles 275 & 282).
- Finance Commission is constituted every 5 years to recommend distribution of resources.

4. CONTROL OF CENTRE OVER STATES

Legislative Control
Parliament can make laws on State List subjects in national interest (Article 249, 252).

Executive Control
Centre issues directions to States for compliance with Union laws (Article 256).

Financial Control
Centre can reduce or withhold grants to States (Article 282).

Emergency Provisions
During National Emergency, Centre can assume State functions (Articles 352, 356).

5. ROLE OF GOVERNOR

- Governor is the constitutional head of the State, appointed by the President.
- Acts on the aid and advice of the Council of Ministers except in cases where he is required to act in his discretion.
- Acts as a link between Centre and State.
- Can reserve certain Bills passed by State Legislature for President's consideration.

6. INTER-STATE RELATIONS

Inter-State Council (Article 263)
A forum to discuss and make recommendations on issues of common interest between States and Centre.

Zonal Councils
To promote cooperation and address regional issues.

River Water Disputes
Disputes are settled by Tribunals constituted by the Centre (Inter-State Water Disputes Act, 1956).

Boundary Disputes
Resolved through negotiation and, if necessary, by the President.

7. IMPORTANCE OF CENTRAL-STATE RELATIONS

Maintains national unity and integrity.

Ensures welfare of people through coordinated action.

Promotes balanced regional development and planning.

Helps in maintaining law, order and internal security.

Encourages cooperation and strengthens federal spirit.

Essential for effective governance in a diverse country.

9. CENTRE-STATE DISPUTE SETTLEMENT

- Disputes are resolved through discussion, negotiation and consultation.
- Inter-State Council and Zonal Councils play a important role.
- In case of river water disputes, Tribunals are constituted by the Centre.

DID YOU KNOW?

The idea of a strong Centre in India is inspired by the experience of partition and the need for national unity.

The strength of a nation lies in the efficiency of the union, and the strength of the union lies in the cooperation of the States.
– Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel

EMERGENCY PROVISIONS

— SAFEGUARDING THE NATION IN TIMES OF CRISIS —

सत्यमेव जयते

“ The Constitution empowers the Union to take special measures during emergencies to protect the sovereignty, unity and integrity of India and its people. ”

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

— EVOLVING WITH TIME, STAYING TRUE TO PRINCIPLES —

“The Constitution is not a static document. It is a living instrument and must be amended to meet the changing needs of the society.”

– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

The Constitution of India can be amended to incorporate new ideas, correct defects and meet the aspirations of the people. The power to amend the Constitution is provided in Article 368.

1. MEANING

- Constitutional Amendment means the formal process of making changes in the Constitution.
- It helps the Constitution remain relevant and effective over time.

2. POWER TO AMEND

- The power to amend the Constitution is vested in the Parliament.
- It is expressly provided under Article 368.

3. PROCEDURE FOR AMENDMENT (Article 368)

- An Amendment Bill can be introduced in either House of Parliament.
- It must be passed by a special majority in both Houses.
- Special Majority means:
 - Majority of the total membership of the House, and
 - Majority of not less than two-thirds of the members present and voting.
- In some cases, ratification by at least half of the State Legislatures is also required.
- After Presidential assent, the Amendment becomes part of the Constitution.

4. TYPES OF AMENDMENTS

By Simple Majority
(Article 368 not applicable)
Example: Creation of new States, formation of Legislative Councils, citizenship etc.

By Special Majority in Parliament
(Article 368 applicable)
Example: Fundamental Rights, Directive Principles, Election of President, Supreme Court, etc.

By Special Majority + Ratification by States
(Article 368 applicable)
Example: Federal provisions, powers of President and Governors, 7th Schedule, representation of States in Parliament, etc.

5. CLASSIFICATION OF AMENDMENTS

Valid Amendments
Must follow the procedure of Article 368 and within the amendment power of Parliament.

Invalid Amendments
Made without following the procedure or beyond the amendment power.

Basic Structure Doctrine
Even a validly passed amendment cannot alter the basic structure of the Constitution.

Basic Structure Includes:

Supremacy of Constitution, Republic & Democracy, Secularism, Federalism, Separation of Powers, Judicial Review, Fundamental Rights, etc.

6. LANDMARK AMENDMENTS

LANDMARK SUPREME COURT CASES

सत्यमेव जयते

“The Constitution is alive because it is interpreted by the Courts to meet the needs of the people and the changing times.”

– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

The Supreme Court of India, as the guardian of the Constitution, has delivered several historic judgments that have strengthened democracy, protected fundamental rights and expanded the scope of justice.

1 KESAVANANDA BHARATI v. STATE OF KERALA (1973)

Held that Parliament can amend any part of the Constitution under Article 368, but cannot alter its Basic Structure.

- Established the Basic Structure Doctrine.

2 GOLAKNATH v. STATE OF PUNJAB (1967)

Held that Parliament has no power to amend Fundamental Rights.

- Led to the 24th Amendment, which overruled this judgment.

3 MINERVA MILLS LTD. v. UNION OF INDIA (1980)

Reaffirmed the Basic Structure Doctrine. Held that Fundamental Rights and Directive Principles are in harmony and balance.

- Struck down excessive amendment powers.

4 MANEKA GANDHI v. UNION OF INDIA (1978)

Expanded the scope of Article 21 (Right to Life and Personal Liberty). Held that any law must be just, fair and reasonable.

- Introduced 'Due Process of Law' in India.

5 OLGA TELLIS v. BOMBAY MUNICIPAL CORPORATION (1985)

Held that the Right to Livelihood is a part of Right to Life under Article 21.

- Protected pavement dwellers from arbitrary eviction.

6 VISHAKA v. STATE OF RAJASTHAN (1997)

Issued guidelines to prevent sexual harassment at the workplace.

- Laid down the 'Vishaka Guidelines' based on Articles 14, 15, 19 & 21.

7 UNION OF INDIA v. NAVTEJ SINGH JOHAR (2018)

Decriminalised Section 377 of IPC. Held that LGBTQ+ rights are part of Right to Life and Dignity (Article 21).

- A historic step towards equality and inclusion.

8 PUCL v. UNION OF INDIA (TELEPHONE TAPPING CASE) (1997)

Held that telephone tapping violates Right to Privacy.

- Laid down guidelines for lawful interception of calls.

9 LAKSHMANAN v. STATE OF TAMIL NADU (1997)

Struck down death penalty for all crimes committed by persons below 18.

- Upheld human dignity and reformation.

10 INDRA SAWHNEY v. UNION OF INDIA (1992) (MANDAL CASE)

Upheld 27% reservation for OBCs in public employment.

- Introduced the concept of 'Creamy Layer'.

11 SHREYA SINGHAL v. UNION OF INDIA (2015)

Struck down Section 66A of IT Act. Held that Freedom of Speech and Expression cannot be restricted arbitrarily.

12 JUSTICE K. S. PUTTASWAMY (RIGHT TO PRIVACY CASE) v. UNION OF INDIA (2017)

Recognised Right to Privacy as a Fundamental Right under Article 21.

- A 9-judge bench decision of historic significance.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

QUICK ANSWERS TO IMPORTANT CONSTITUTIONAL QUERIES

The Constitution of India is a living document. Over the years, many questions have arisen about its provisions, rights, duties, institutions and functioning. Here are answers to some of the most frequently asked questions.

1 What is the Constitution of India?

The Constitution is the supreme law of India. It lays down the framework for governance, defines the structure of the Government, and guarantees Fundamental Rights and Directive Principles to ensure justice, liberty, equality and fraternity.

2 When did the Constitution of India come into force?

The Constitution came into force on 26th January, 1950. This day is celebrated every year as Republic Day.

3 Who drafted the Constitution of India?

The Constitution was drafted by the Drafting Committee chaired by Dr. B. R. Ambedkar.

4 How many members were there in the Constituent Assembly?

The Constituent Assembly originally had 389 members. After the partition, it had 299 members, out of which 284 members signed the Constitution.

5 How many Articles and Schedules are there in the Constitution?

The Constitution originally had 395 Articles and 8 Schedules. At present, it has 448 Articles (including 12 Schedules).

6 What is the Preamble of the Constitution about?

The Preamble states the objectives of the Constitution – to secure Justice, Liberty, Equality and Fraternity for all citizens and to promote the unity and integrity of India.

7 What are Fundamental Rights?

Fundamental Rights are basic rights guaranteed to all citizens to ensure freedom, equality and dignity. They are enforceable by courts.

8 What are Directive Principles of State Policy?

These are guidelines for the State to promote social and economic welfare of the people. They are not enforceable by courts but are fundamental in the governance of India.

9 What is the basic structure of the Constitution?

The basic structure includes features like democracy, republicanism, secularism, rule of law, separation of powers, judicial review and federalism. It cannot be altered even by a constitutional amendment.

10 What is Judicial Review?

Judicial Review is the power of the judiciary to examine the constitutionality of legislative and executive actions and strike down laws that violate the Constitution.

11 Is India a Federal or Unitary State?

India is a "Union of States" with a quasi-federal structure. It has federal features but a strong unitary bias.

12 Who has more financial powers – Centre or States?

The Centre has more financial powers. The distribution of powers is given in the Seventh Schedule – Union List, State List and Concurrent List.

13 What is the significance of the Amendment Process?

The Amendment Process allows the Constitution to adapt to changing needs. Some provisions can be amended by a simple majority, while others require special majority or ratification by States.

14 What is the Emergency Provision?

The Constitution provides for National Emergency, State Emergency and Financial Emergency under Articles 352, 356 and 360 respectively.

15 Why is the Constitution called a 'Living Document'?

Because it is not rigid. It can be amended, interpreted and applied to new situations to meet the needs of a changing society.

DID YOU KNOW?

- ★ India has the longest written Constitution in the world.
- ★ It borrowed ideas from more than 60 Constitutions.
- ★ The word "Secular" and "Socialist" were added by the 42nd Amendment.

liberty, fraternity and dignity of every individual.

It is a living document which can be amended to meet the changing needs of society.

A LIVING DOCUMENT. A TIMELESS GUIDE.

The Constitution of India is not just a legal document; it is a source of power and wisdom.
It empowers us with rights, directs us with duties and unites us as one nation.
Let us respect it, follow it and uphold its values in our thoughts, words and actions.

WORDS TO LIVE BY

Liberty without equality is privilege.
Equality without liberty
is slavery.
Fraternity without both
is hypocrisy.

– Dr. B. R. Ambedkar
